FOOD PRODUCTS GENERALLY LOWER

WITH EXCEPTIONS OF COFFEE, SUGAR AND POTATOES— FOOD COMMODITIES CHEAPER

NEW HIGH RECORD PRICES

Sugar Higher Than For Twelve Years, Coffee Higher Than Since Civil War—Potatoes Also Up.

By Associated Press.

New York, Sept. 11.—While thousands are starving in China and France is overrun with riots against high food prices, there is renewed attention in the United States to the high cost of living because sugar has reached its highest price in twelve years. Coffee prices are also at a new high record and potatoes are selling up to $1.10 per bushel in the field. It is learned that with the exception of these three staples the month of Sept. in the United States began with food prices more favorable to the consumer than in September last year. Mess pork for example, was $19 per barrel against $24 at the same time last year.

Can Raise Cane in Texas.

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 11.—With a bound, sugar has leaped into the center of the stage and is monopolizing for the present the limelight. In connection with this spectacular performance on the part of this usually retiring commodity, it is interesting to note that that valuable product will probably not be able to maintain its fictitious value very long, for it is reckoning without considering the important role the fertility of Texas soil is beginning to play. Commissioner of Agriculture Kone, in a bulletin recently issued, says cane grows very luxuriously in Texas and possesses a large amount of saccharine matter Many of the counties of Southwest Texas are making a speciality of cane with such success that the return from this crop is estimated at $6,300,000. In Cameron county alone, two sugar mills, at a cost of $2,000,000, are being constructed to take care of this winter's crop. There are already two mills in operation in that county, and farmers are awaking to the great possibilities of the growing of cane.

GREAT MEAT RATE INQUIRY IS BEGUN

Investigation That Opened at Oklahoma Will Directly Affect Live Stock and Meat Product Shipments.

Oklahoma City, Okla, Sept. 11—What is regarded as one of the most important freight rate investigations ever conducted by the Interstate Commerce Commission was inaugurated here today with the initial hearing for the taking of evidence in regard to the rates on live stock, packing house products and fresh meats. The inquiry is to be a wide one. The purpose of the commission being not only to secure a parity of rates but to establish by definite order rates which the commission shall regard as reasonable and not unjustly discriminatory. The investigation will affect directly not only the live stock and packing house product rates throughout the Central West, but also those east of Chicago and west of Denver.

The investigation is based upon complaints of the rates filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Railroad Commission of Oklahoma, the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, the American National Live Stock Association, and other interested in live stock and meat product shipments. Following the taking of evidence in this city the commission will hold hearings in other cities, including Fort Worth, Kansas City and Chicago. A final determination of the proceeding is not expected before next spring.

Cities Will Vote Against Prohibition.

By Associated Press

Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—Maine's statewide prohibition election drew the voters early at the polls today. In cities it seemed the disposition to abolish the prohibitory amendment, but in the country the anti saloonists hoped to secure votes to retain prohibition In churches throughout the state pro-workers began prayer meetings with the opening of the polls.

WATER AND LIGHT RATES AT HILLSBORO

For information to aid them in formulating the new public utilities ordinance, members of the city council and the city secretary have written to a number of cities making inquiry about rates, etc.

A letter was received from Hillsboro this morning furnishing the following information:

For arc lights of 2000 candle power the city pays $7.50 per month.

For current for domestic use the charge is 15 cents per kilowat with a minumum charge of 75 cents per month.

The water rate varies from 25 to 40 cents per thousand feet with a minmum of 25 cents per thousand feet. The minmum charge is $2 25 per quarter and $9.00 per year.

The city has 120 fire plugs but the letter does not state what is charged for this service.

FIVE ADDITIONS FIRST M. E. CHMRCH SOUTH

Big Rallay Day Planned for the First Sunday in October—A Home Coming Day.

Dr. H. A. Bourland, of Dallas, preached a great sermon yesterday morning at the First M E. Church, South. His theme was "Christian Experience," the text being "For me to live is Christ and to die is gain." He amplified the two propositions Christ, the believers life, and death, the believers gain. Throughout his argument was convincing, the illustrations were clear, and the sermon was well received by the appreciative congregation

At the evening hour the pastor, Rev O. T. Cooper, preached on the theme "Shall We Continue to Preach?" During the day there were five additions to the church. At a meeting in the afternoon of the worker's, a big rally day was planned for the first Sunday in October. All the services of the day will be arranged for with special programs. It will be a great homecoming day. Every member of the church is expected to be present.

The Game Was a Burlesque.

Cleburne, Texas, Sept 11—By a score of 10 to 12, Austin won the closing game of the year, which was different from any other game because of a field handicap The man instructed to mow the Johnson grass at the "Sunday" park failed to carry out instructions, and this allowed batters an advantage over the fielders, who were not accustomed to lorating balls in high grass. Several home runs were secured and this made the score run high Gibson put two over the fence and one of the visitors did the same There was a spirit of fun throughout the game, the main object being to see who could make the longest drive to the tall grass. The local fans and the Cleburne team gave the visitors a very hearty welcome and extended thanks to them for playing a return date

H. C. GUMBLE KILLED IN KANSAS CITY

WICHITA FALLS RTAL ESTATE MAN DIES FROM SHOTS FIRED BY CIGAR SALESMAN.

THREE SHOTS WERE FIRED

Dying Man Destroys Letters That Might Have Explained Motive for Shooting.

Henry C Gumbel, who purchased the Wil ranch in Archer county a few months ago and who has been engaged in the real estate business here having an office in the Kemp and Kell building, died Sunday from bullet wounds, the shots having been fired by Robert F Curtiss, a cigar salesman of Kansas City Mr Gumbel left Wichita Falls several weeks ago to look after his interests at Kansas City. Sunday morning's papers contained an account of the shooting and a dispatch from Kansas City says he died there yesterday

The following account of the tragedy is reprinted from the Kansas City Star:

The trembling fingers of Henry C Gumbel, as he lay with three bullets in his body, tore to pieces three letters that probably would have explained why Robert F. Curtis shot him on the fourth floor of the Kupper Hotel at 4.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The wounded man, still conscious and suffering intensely, deliberately destroyed the evidence in the presence of persons who had gone to his aid.

Curtis is a cigar salesman for Niles & Moser. He recently brought suit for divorce from his wife, naming Gumbel. Gumbel's mother formerly owned the Gumbel building at the southeast corner of Eighth and Walnut streets.

Went to Sheriff's Office.

Curtis fled from the hotel after the shooting. Nobody saw him leave. He went to the sheriff's office in the county courthouse and offered to surrender. A deputy in the sheriff's office telephoned the marshal's office and Thomas Malone, a deputy went to the courthouse and took Curtis to the county jail. Curtis handed Joseph Strauss, the jailer, his revolver and calmly announced:

"I shot him four times and I believe every shot took effect."

He was smoking a cigar and did not appear excited. Curtis stood in the office and telephoned his attorneys and other friends and wasn't locked up for forty-five minutes.

Three Bullets Took Effect.

Gumbel was taken to the University Hospital. Curtis shot four times. Three of the bullets struck Gumbel One hit him in the right shoulder and came out of his arm. Another hit him in the right breast, ranged downward and came out his back. The third bullet entered his right breast, a few inches below the other shot, ranged downward over the liver and into the stomach. This bullet was not extracted last night, as Gumbel's condition was too weak to allow it. Dr. Gordon A. Beedle, who attended Mr. Gumbel, pronounced his condition as critical last night.

Curtis evidently gained access to Gumbel's room, No. 422, and fired three of the bullets which passed through Gumbel's body made imprints on the wall opposite the door to 422, indicating that Gumbel was getting away at the time. The plaster was the loss of blood While Benson was telephoning the office for a physician and assistance, the guest spoke to the wounded man

"Who shot you?" the guest inquired

"Curtis," Gumbel replied

"What Curtis?" Benson interrupted

"Robert Curtis," was the wounded man's answer

"Why did he shoot you?"

"He thought I was fooling with his wife," Gumbel declared The wounded man then turned to Benson, who had finished telephoning

Saw Through The Trick

"Get me those letters under the bed covers" he ordered Benson reached under the covers and took out three letters. Two were addressed The third, which was more bulky than the others was unaddressed. Gumbel tore two of the letters in small pieces and requested Benson to destroy the third Benson attempted to slip the unaddressed letter in his pocket, but Gumbel saw him.

"I asked you to destroy that letter," Gumbel remarked. "Give it to me."

Then he tore it in small pieces, and lay back and waited for medical aid to arrive No one thought to look for the man who did the shooting

None of the hotel employees saw Curtis leave the floor, and it was believed he had left the building by climbing down a fire escape All the window screens near the fire escape were unopened, however, and it is believed that Curtis went downstairs in the elevator and left the building unobserved. He was not seen again until his arrival at the sheriff's office, where he surrendered

COUNTER PROPOSALS DISPLEASE FRANCE

IF ACCEPTED GERMANY WILL HAVE ADVANTAGE OVER EVERY OTHER POWER

END OF PROTECTORATE

Germany Demands Recognition of All German Concessions in Morocco.

By Associated Press.

Paris, Sept 11.—Germany's counter proposals to France over Morocco have affected the French government circles unpleasantly. It appears that Germany asks that every claim of German subjects to concessions in Morocco be recognized by France, that no new enterprises be recognized by France and that no new enterprise be started under the French protectorate without being inter-nationalized equally, which it is said would give Germany advantages over every other power, even over France.

SCHOOLS OPEN; ATTENDANCE LARGE

A triple force of clerks is sweating and toiling desperately at Martin's Book Store today in an effort to meet the insistent demands of fifteen hundred and more school pupils all of whom want to be waited upon at once. Other stores which handle school supplies were crowded all afternoon. Children streamed toward the school buildings from every direction this morning and before the opening hour all the buildings were filled.

With a generalship that seemed remarkable, a semblance of order was instituted in the school rooms and the pupils were assigned to their classes as rapidly as possible. This afternoon the pupils are buying their books and tomorrow class work will be started.

While an estimate of the attendance was not obtainable today it is believed the enrollment has been the largest for the opening day in the history of the city.

POLITICAL FORTUNES HAVE BEEN JOINED

Campbell for Senate and Lightfoot for Governor to Campaign Together.

Austin, Texas, Sept 11—That the political fortunes of former governor, M. Campbell, as a candidate for the United States Senate and of Attorney General Lightfoot as a candidate for governor during the coming campaign will be closely associated and under practically the same management seems to be an assured fact. A meeting of their friends was held Saturday night and another is scheduled here for tonight

BURN TOBACCO GIVEN BY PLEDGERS

SMOKE FROM BURNING WEED WAFTED BACK AS FIRST TEMPTATION T OTHOSE WHO QUI TITS USE

AN EFFECTIVE LECTURE

Twenty Announced They Would Quit Swearing and 200 Pledge Themselves to Defend Honor of Women.

Seven men pledged themselves to quit the use of tobacco at the Lamar Airdome last night at the conclusion of Dr R R Hamlin's lecture on "Manhood" As a starter they gave up the tobacco they carried in their clothes and it was burned as an offering to the devil in front of the theatre and was wafted back over the pledges on the northeast wind as their first temptation

Twelve others stood up and pledged that they would quit swearing and when the speaker called for pledges to defend the honor of women, more than two hundred men arose to their feet.

The Airdome was thronged with a great crowd to hear Dr. Hamlin's lecture to men He had invited them to bring their wives, sisters, daughters, and sweethearts out to hear it and the ladies were there in almost equal numbers with the men. We are sure that thought they were not in the habit of saying amen out in meeting, yet they endorsed all the speaker said in his plea for a nobler and cleaner manhood

The lecture was well spiced with humor and apt illustrations and the audience was in sympathy with the speaker from start to finish.

He said in part

"This county is suffering for want of men, clean, straight, reliable men Every dishonest man robs me and you on account of those who do not pay their debts, the merchant is forced to put on an extra profit to cover the loss and we pay it

"The things that kill true manhood are: First, swearing. No true man will swear. It is a species of irreverence that makes anarchists. It is a fool thing to do and there is not profit in it. The less a man is the more he needs to cuss to bolster up his little manhood. The more man there is the less he needs to swear. Gen R. E Lee led the grandest army ever marched on field of battle and governed them for four years without oaths or obscenity. It did not take swearing to make a R, E Lee

"The tobacco habit robs men of manhood—physically and morally. It makes men mean and selfish. They deny their families and burn up the money in tobacco. The great Boston Medical Association declared that no man that uses tobacco in any form has a perfectly sound heart. Fully fifty thousand men die an untimely death each year on account of the tobacco habit. Twelve to fifteen hundred boys start its use each week Weakening eyes, nerves, brain and body. We have spent a century in developing the cow, horse, pig and chicken. The result is we have some of the finest stock in the world We have neglected the human stock and have some of the worst scrubs in the world.

"The drink habit destroys manhood. The lying advertisement of the brewer say that beer is the workingman's friend. I have seen him draw his weekly pay, spend it in a saloon and he was hauled home drunk, while his wife could not pay the grocer, butcher, milk man or ice man, whom she had bought the family supplies of Every seller of liquor is an enemy to labor and all homes of the city Every big drunkard was once a little one. You men that merely take a drink occasionally are little drunkards, but you will grow if you keep going to the saloon"

The speaker also denounced gambling and warned mothers against the kindergarten of the gambler bets on baseball, marbles for keeps and other wagers.

The double standard was handled without gloves and the golden rule showed to be the cure All that you claim for your wife, daughter or sister you are pledged by true manhood to protect in the loved ones of others

Rev Hamlin promised a lecture for next Sunday evening on "The American Home"

ALLEGES THAT BOOZE CAUSED ACCIDENT

(Henrietta Independent).

A damage suit for personal injuries received in an automobile accident, the first damage suit of this character ever filed in the county, was filed in county court Wednesday.

John Riley vs. John Horn is the style of the case and the amount of damages prayed for is $975 Mr. Riley who is a chaffeur, alleges in his petition that on August 25th, he was engaged by the defendant to drive his automobile from Wichita Falls to Petrolia; that some seven miles from Wichita Falls the machine was stopped and plaintiff got out to fill the radiator with water, and that while he was so filling the radiator, the defendant, Horn who was in an intoxicated condition, got into the driver's seat and refused to permit plaintiff to run the machine, but persisted in running it himself; that he ran it at such a careless manner that it was overturned and plaintiff was thrown to the ground and painfully hurt. The injuries are specified as a broken collar bone, besides bruises about the head, neck, shoulders, bones and muscles.

It is stated that the reason that a larger amount of damages was not asked is because the defendant hasn't property sufficient to satisfy a judgment for a larger amount.

There were other parties in the auto at the time of the accident and they were more or less shaken up but are not mentioned in the petition

TEXTILE MILLS RESUME OPERATIONS

Eighty-Five Thousand Textile Operatives Called Back to Their Machines in Past Eight Days.

By Associated Press

Boston, Mass., Sept. 11.—Nearly twenty-five thousand persons engaged in the New England textile industry, resumed work today after various periods of idleness. Within eight days eighty-five thousand textile operatives have been called back to their machines. The outlook, however, not exceedingly bright Curtailment will continue at some cotton and woolen centers. At Fall River last week over 325,000 pieces of print cloth were kept off the market. This is over half of the normal production in that city

At The Lamar Airdome.

Mullane and Montgomery will open at the Lamar Airdome tonight with a vaudeville sketch that has never failed to bring applause after applause in other towns This is one of the best acts on Frankie Bros, circuit and the management takes pleasure in announcing their return engagement to the city All those that saw them before will no doubt welcome the opportunity of seeing them again in their very clever sketch Miss Merrell in a spot light song and three new reels of pictures will be shown.

PLANING MILL TO EXTEND BUSINESS

WILL ENGAGE STRICTLY IN WHOLESALE BUSINESS AND WILL ENLARGE PLANT.

THE STOCKHOLDERS MEET

Capital Stock to Be Increased and Traveling Men Placed in the Field.

The Wichita Falls Planing Mill Co, at a meeting of the stockholders in the office of Anderson & Patterson this afternoon, are making plans to greatly increase the capacity and output of the plant and put it into the strictly wholesale manufacuring class

The plans, as outlined to a Times reporter, call for a considerable increase in the capital stock, the building of another and larger warehouse and the employment of a considerable number of traveling men, who will represent the company throughout this and adjoining states.

Just how much the capital will be increased will not be known until the result of the meeting is made public, but it will be sufficient to carry out the plans as contemplated

Mr G W. Whitten, of Oklahoma City, who has been engaged in the sash and door and lumber business all of his life, has come here to take an interest in the concern, and he will be in charge of the sales department, with general supervision over the traveling men and selling department.

The firm will continue to manufacture a general line of sash and doors, boxes, etc., and will deal only with lumber dealers and contractors, instead of with the consumer as heretofore They will branch out from Wichita Falls in all directions, going just as far as the demand for goods, and the freight rates will justify. It will require some time to get the new arrangements into operation, but as soon as they are perfected the company expects to put on a considerable number of additional men in the plant, as well as on the road.

The new warehouse, which the company will build, will be of brick, and will be erected just south of the factory building.

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE®

Stray Topics From Little Old New York

New York, Sept 11 —Tim Sullivan's law against dangerous weapons has gone into effect and the entire police force of Greater New York has received strict orders to enforce the law with energy and promptness The enforcement of the law, the provisions of which are decidedly stringent, places a tremendous burden upon the shoulders of the police department The heads of that department fully realize that fact, but they also understand that the radical enforcement of the law will, in the future greatly diminish the task and risks of the officers of the law It is expected that the suppression of the unauthorized traffic in dangerous weapons will materially diminish the number of crimes against the person committed in this city The annual list of such crimes committed in Greater New York has ben enormous during the last ten years and has been steadily growing to appalling proportions Something had to be done and it is hoped that the new law will put at least a damper upon the unlawful use of pistols daggers, stilletos, black jacks and brass knuckles, with which the members of the vicious and criminal classes are invariably armed There is scarcely an Italian to be found on the East side or in the Harlem River district who does not carry one or more of such weapons in anticipation of the going into effect of the law and of the raids which will probably be made by the police Many thousands of revolvers and other forbidden weapons were sold to the pawnbrokers during the last few days preceding the first day of September

After having served three years and a half of his ten year sentence following the burning of the General Slocum and the loss of 1,031 lives, William H Van Schaick, the captain of the ill fated craft, was paroled from Sing Sing Prison the other day He did not notify his wife or any of his numerous friends of his release and arrived in New York unheralded He was not even sure where to find his wife and had to hunt up one of his friends to obtain her address Capt. Van Schaick was offered as a sacrifice to public opinion at that time, while the real offenders, the owners of the steamship line and the Government steamship inspectors were allowed to go unpunished. The captain is now seventy-one years of age, but still active and in fairly good health He does not expect ever to command a ship again, but hopes to be able to find some occupation which will enable him to remain in touch with the sea and things nautical

A New York lawyer, who is employed as collection attorney for the New York Telephone Company, finds himself in a legal quandry which, he frankly admits, is too deep for him to solve The fact is that he does not know where, under the law, he lives and where he is entitled to exercise his right to vote The boundary line between Newark and the village of South Orange N J, runs diagonally through his house, in such fashion that when he goes to bed in his bedroom his head is in Newark, while his feet are in South Orange He pays taxes in both towns but has not been able to figure out which town he can claim as his legal residence.

The other day a physician was called to treat a boy of eleven years living with his parents in Bloomfield, N J, for some trifling ailment. The surprise of the doctor may be imagined when he found upon examining the young patient that the latter had his heart on the right side instead of the left side of his breast. The boy is otherwise normally developed and it is quite surprising that the fact of the abnormal location of his heart was not discovered long ago

A man may throw his bread upon the waters in this city, if it so please him, but when he tries to throw nickles, dimes and other small coin in the public streets of New York he violates the statutes and makes himself guilty of disorderly conduct. A young and evidently wealthy young man, the son of an aristocratic family of Boston, learned this to his discomfiture the other day. He come to New York to see the sights of the city and was well provided with funds While wandering through the crooked and narrow streets of Chinatown the idea came to him that it would be great sport to throw small coins into the streets and watch the gamins scrambling and fighting for it. He laid in a good stock of small change and, standing in a doorway, began to scatter the coins by the handful In less than no time the street was filled with a howling and scrambling mob of Bowery citizens, fighting like mad for the possession of the shining bits of silver When a policeman appeared upon the scene and, taking in the situation, placed the young Bostonian under arrest, the crowd nearly mobbed him for interfering with this shower of coins

To celebrate the twenty-seventh anniversary of his birth a man, who answers to the rather unusual name of Peter Licollick gave a party at his home in Stanton street. Among the guests was a young man whose name, quite familiar to all baseball fans, is Charles Thomas Raincheck. Charles Thomas had such a good time that before the evening had grown old, he imagined that he was running the whole show The host called him down in a mild way, but Raincheck took it amiss and, throwing his arms around Licollick, he bit a piece out of the latter's cheek A doctor and a policeman arrived about the same time after the excitement had somewhat subsided. The officer of the law conducted Raincheck to the nearest police station, while the doctor patched up the chewed up host

Famished and only half conscious his clothes soaked by the rain which had been pouring down steadily for nearly twenty four hours, Harry Smirl, an actor, was found in the bushes of Central Park by a park policeman the other night The man, formerly a member of the White Rats, had come to New York from Providence, R I, to look for an engagement. He was unsuccessful, however, and being completely without money and too proud to beg, he wandered through the streets, until his strength gave out and he crawled in the bushes of the park to rest. He lost consciousness and would have starved to death had he not been found by the park policeman and taken to the hospital

FAILED TO GET DIVORCE IN RENO

Philadelphia Woman Returns to the East Without Gaining Freedom.

Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—Mrs. Lillian Wiggins, until recently the most beautiful member of the Reno divorce colony, has returned to Philadelphia in disgust because she did not find the "Reno way" so easy. She is giving advice to all of her friends that if they wish to be free of marital incumbrances to start their divorce suits right here and not go to Reno. Mrs. Wiggins still has a husband, although she says she does not know who he is.

"When I spoke of getting a divorce," said Mrs. Wiggins, "My friends asked me why I didn't go to Reno. They said all it was necessary for me to do was to establish a residence, file my suit and then visit the place once in a while just to demonstrate that I still lived.

"I arrived in Reno Aug. 3, 1910, and rented a bungalow a year paying for it in advance. I lived there for a while and then business called me away. I got after my attorneys when my case wos not moved and they informed me that I had spent so little time Reno during the required six months of residence it would be impossible for me to get my divorce.

Obstacles in the Way

"My attorneys also informed me that two new judges had recently been appointed at Reno and that these men were very precise and demanded answers to the smallest details.

"After a time I got tired trying to get a Reno divorce and I learned that many other women in the Reno divorce colony became so fond of the town that they just remained there. I made many friends there and had just as good a time as if I had been in Philadelphia, New York or Chicago. If I wanted to enjoy the cafe life, I could do that also.

"The outskirts of Reno possess two roadhouses, where all automobile parties go. Both have large ball rooms tall glasses, plenty of ice and metropolitan bartenders. The only thing they lack is an orchestra, and this deficiency is filled by automatic pianos.

"These two roadhouses also are the scenes of all the 'real parties' in Reno And they seldom come to an end before 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning.

"It is at these parties that many persons have found Affinity No. 2. Many a divorce is followed in ten minutes by a Reno marriage.

One Cafe Popular.

"In Reno proper there is a delightful cafe. There all the near divorcees wine, dine and show their fine clothes. There the society reporters of Reno newspapers get their notes and the proprietors of the Reno stores get their advance information on the latest styles in gowns.

"When I went to Reno I wore a hobble skirt, the very first to be seen in the town. Within five days all the shop-windows contained hobble gowns.

"Reno is a beautiful place in which to live, find an affinity, or die, but from my experience it is the last place in the world to which to go for a divorce."

Mrs. Wiggins, according to her statement, was deserted by her husband four years ago. She went to Reno for the purpose of preventing publicity in her home city. Now she has decided to start divorce proceedings here.

CHRISTIANA RIOT MONUMENT UNVEILED

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 11.—With appropriate exercises and in the presence of a large crowd of visitors from many parts of the State the monument was unveiled today which the Lancaster Historical Society had erected at Christiana, in the eastern part of this county, to mark the site of the old log cabin around which, sixty years ago, raged the "Christiana Riot," one of the most famous and bloody conflicts between slavery and anti-slavery elements before the civil war.

The Christiana riot was the outgrowth of an attempt by a Maryland slaveholder to regain possession of four runaway slaves. The negroes, who were claimed by Edward Gorsuch as his property, crossed the Susquehanna River at the Columbia bridge and by means of the famous underground railroad were spirited to the eastern border of the county, where they were detained until arrangements could be made for their transportation further north.

A negro tavern keeper in Philadelphia learned that warrants had been issued for the arrest of the Gorsuch slaves and hurried to Christiana to give the alarm. When Thomas E. Pearce, a nephew, Joshua Gorsuch, and two hired assistants, arrived with their warrants at Chrisitna on the morning of Setpember 11, 1851, the fugitives, who were secreted in the cabin of a negro named Parker, were prepared for them.

Marshal Kline and Edward Gorsuch battered down the door of the cabin and asked the slaves, hidden in the attic, to surrender. The negroes refused to surrender and the warrants were read to them. About this time Castner Hanaway and Elijah Lewis, two white residents, known for their strong anti slavery ideas, appeared upon the scene. They were called upon by the marshal to assist in capturing the slaves, but positively refused to lend their hand.

When the marshal's party attempted to storm the attic, the negroes opened fire and Edward Gorsuch was killed and Dickinson Gorsuch and Dr. Pearce were wounded. Noting that the cabin was surrounded by armed negroes, Marshal Kline gave up the attempt to capture the slaves.

The Federal authorities promptly took steps to prosecute the rioters All the negroes who participated in the riot were arrested, together wtih several white men, including Hanaway and Lewis. They were taken to Philadelphia and there tried on the charge of treason. The trial lasted fifteen days and although the presiding judges, Grier, and Mane, were strong pro-slavery men, the jury acquitted the prisoners. What lent additional interest to the exercises to day was the presence at the unveiling of Peter Wood, a negro who, as a boy took part in the riot, armed with a corn cutter. The family of Edward Gorsuch was also represented.

505 HOT AIR 505

Wichita Falls, Texas, Sept 11th, 1911

The recent rains have made it certain that Wichita and surrounding counties will produce an abundance of feed crops,—perhaps the largest in several years

And the gushing oil wells continue to 'come in' in the Electra field Two is the record for last week, the last one having a daily capacity of something like 1000 barrels.

Virginia is a dangerous state in which to commit crime Henry Clay Beattie perhaps realizes this fact now It is the only state in the Union where it is the custom of the jury to hold prayer and call for Divine guidance, and it really looks as if the Lord had directed the verdict in that case

"The best mud-hole in the best built city in Texas," is the wording of a sign nailed to a stick and driven in the center of the mud hole in the business part of the city. This could be remedied by a few loads of gravel, but so far as the Times is concerned it trusts the sign will be allowed to remain where it is until it attracts the attention of the street commissioner.

Go out to the mass meeting at the court house tonight. Three candidates are to be named who are to be elected on October 13th to act with the county judge and the county commissioners of precinct No 1, whose duty it will be to superintend the construction of good roads in this precinct, and who will have charge of the handling of the money to be realized from the sale of the $150,000 worth of good roads bonds, in the event the tax-payers act favorably upon the proposition Unless practical men—men who have knowledge of road building, can be found to take these positions, it might cut some figure in the election. The Times trusts this meeting will be well attended.

In Germany before a person is allowed to preside at the steering wheel of an automobile he must spend at least a week in a "school" of an auto factory that made his machine in order to gain a knowledge of the mechanism of it After that he is required to show the police authorities a sworn statement from this "school" as to his proficiency, together with his photograph, birth certificate and a certificate from a doctor saying that his sight and hearing are normal and then he is granted a license to run his machine for one other If such a law as that was adopted in the United States, the record of automobile accidents would be reduced considerably Here, anybody who happens to have the price and the inclination, can buy an auto and there is nothing to comply with except the speed limit laws

Electra, Texas, Sept 9, 1911

Wichita Daily Times,
Wichita Falls, Texas.

Gentlemen —I would suggest that you send your reporter up here and have him count the producing oil wells in Electra oil field.

ELECTRA CITZIEN.

The Times was in error when it made the statement that there were only eight producing wells in the Electra oil field What it meant to say was that there were eight flowing wells in that field. There are a number of wells being pumped The Times also understands that two more flowing wells were brought in last week, which now increases the number to ten flowing wells in all. These wells are coming in so rapidly that it is difficult for a newspaper man to keep in touch with them In truth, even after a flowing well has been brought in, it is sometimes the case that those in charge do not want the fact known, and it is sometimes several days before the public generally have been made aware that the well upon which work had been stopped was a producer instead of a dry hole. In this way mistakes are liable to occur. The Times wants all the reliable information it can get regarding the development of this oil field, but regrets that those who are in a position to furnish this information prefer, in some instances at least to withhold it.

Letter to
P. P. LANGFORD
Wichita Falls, Texas

Dear Sir: A bank messenger lost a small coin. He set his bag down and looked for it. Found it, but somebody else had run off with his bag

A man who is going to paint had better look out for his gallons De voe is the least gallons paint

It's gallons that cost; it isn't the price of a gallon. With one paint, 10 gallons is plenty; another, 11 or 12 or 13 and so on to 22 gallons; and every gallon has to be paid for and painted—$2 to $4 a day for painting paint stuffed out with some sort of whitewash. The less the price of a gallon, the more the gallons.

Bank messengers better look out for their bags and not stop to hunt for small coin; and property owners better look out for the gallons that make the expense, and not for the price which has nothing to do with it

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO

A Defense of the Piker

Written by an Oil Man

The Wichita Times
Gentlemen

By way of introduction, I wish to state that there is no city on earth, not excepting Duluth, Minn., that demonstrates so conclusive to the visitor, the broad gauged, broad minded and progressive spirit of its citizens. God has not been very lavish in surrounding Wichita Falls with the natural resources that other cities claim as a foundation to build on Hence the honor is greater for the builders, and they can look with just pride on the magnificent structure that they have erected and can point with pleasure to a great future in store for Wichita Falls.

There is a preponderence of evidence that Wichita Falls has mes be hind her guns that have red blood in their veins and that they built better and stronger than they knew. Another evidence that "Christian Science" when applied in practicable life is not the vision of a paralytic mind back in Massachusetts, but a demonstrative problem in municipal government, as this city shows The Wichitatan thinks he has a great city, he tells it to his neighbor; and he thinks so, with the result that they all think so; all want to help make it bigger and better with practical results Then came natural gas, that will undoubtedly create a new epoch in this city, by bringing to it manufactories In a short time the darkness of the night will be illuminated by stacks, belching forth their flames from the heated iron and glass glimers the blueness of the sky, (and I have never saw it anywhere so blue) will be changed by the heat radiating from the furnaces. This together with what Wichita already has, will put her in the front rank of Texas cities

This present and future greatness of Wichita Falls has been brought about by what process? Evolution? No! It reminds me of a story of the early days of railroading when the irish handled the shovels They were having a speech at one of their camps and an orator was enthusiastically asking questions. He said "Who builds the railroads in America?" the answer came from the audience "The Irish" "Who builds the court houses and the canals?" again the answer came "The Irish." "Who builds the penitentaries? The Irish. "Who fills them? "The Irish" It was after this last response that the coroners were sent for.

There is but one answer to who builds the railroads or the cities, or for that matter all great enterprises. They are called by some promoters, by others "boosters;" in the oil region they are called pikers. Now I have broken the shell and my future remarks will be in defense of the latter men. Before we are through we will vivisect him and see what he is. And what part he has played in oil country history. Your readers do not know him, and you do not know him or you would not take a fall out of him in almost every issue of your paper. I would like to have your readers know something of this man's past before he is jibed by the press and public opinion. I am not going into ancient history this is all modern history and if I make one mis statement, I am willing to be taken to task for it.

We are not going into the fatherland of oildom for our citations; we are going to start west of the Mississippi River. At Casey, Ill, Robinson, Ill or any other Illinois oil field. The Casey oil field was started by a piker. He had heard that there had been traces of oil found when drilling for water. He interested Mr Hobizell in his dream, and Casey was turned into a magic city forthwith A little gentleman who lives in Texas by the name of Talmage Finley. He was a piker, leased his land, peddled it through three or four states and finally sold enough to drill the great Shire well and the Robinson oil field has been making history ever since A one-legged piker drilled the first well at Bridgeport. His name was Frank Fox, he also pioneered the Centralia oil field. Twenty years ago a piker came to me with a dream that there was oil in the Indian Territory. His brother quietly told us that he was not quite right in the head. However, we got together and investigated Found some foundation in his story, interested a man by the name of Amos Steelsmith, with the result that a well was drilled and that caused other wells to be drilled and the great Oklahoma oil field was found Between the years of 1859 and 1907 there has been drilled 291,158 oil wells, 233,620 of these have been productive, 82,109 of these were in operation in 1907. The past year, 1910, America produced 214,587,366 barrels of crude petroleum Of which I say on a conservative estimate that the piker was the means of 65 per cent of the discoveries I have known one field in the past ten years to be discovered by a large company—that is the Electra field I believe that I am right when I say that the Producers Oil Company pioneered this development Being one of the fraternity of oil men I have nothing but good words to say of the people of Wichita Falls. They are what their city would indicate that they are A big broad gauged crowd And the cordiality that I have been received here makes life worth while, but I cannot see why you newspaper men want to knock what is termed the pikers You can believe me, they are the men who do things, and I am safe in saying that Robinson, Ill, would give thousands of dollars for the same crowd that Wichita Falls has now within her city If the papers want to help to develop the county they must stand by the pikers. Otherwise the large companies will get the leases and there will be the same old delays that are characteristic of all large concerns.

Very truly yours,
W. G LONG

P. S.—I would thank you if you gave this space in your paper

EDITOR'S NOTE—The columns of The Times are an open forum and we invite communications just like the foregoing. In the same spirit several months ago we published a communication from another citizen warning farmers to be on their guard in giving oil and gas leases, so that they would not tie their lands up for a period of years, and receive nothing in return therefor. This we believe has been the only mention of the matter in The Times so far as we can remember, other than to report the recording of leases, the developments of the field and such other legitimate information as we could obtain In the communication referred to the word piker may have been used but a stronger and opprobious term would better have fitted the man would take advantage of the ignorance or credulity of the owner of land and induce him under various pretenses to sign over without any consideration the oil and gas right of his lands for a period of years, or virtually in perpetuity as has been done The term "shyster" would have been far more appropriate than "piker" used by our correspondent The Times would have been recreant to it's trust and ungrateful to those farmers who have been its subscribers and the back bone of its support for many years If we had refused to give publicity to that communication

For the piker' the man who will risk his little in the hope that developments will make it much and who will assist in the development, Wichita county people have the bigest consideration, because that's what they all are. They have invested what little they have and all they could borrow and have then set to work to make good. That's the kind of a "piker" we believe about ninety-nine out of a hundred of the oil men now here are, and there isn't anything too good that the Times and the people of Wichita Falls can wish for them

The man who invests his money in leases in an unproven territory, we fully realize, is playing an uncertain game, and his reward should be commensurate with his risk

There is little question but that the 'pikers" will force the testing and the development of the greater oil field we all hope extends from Petrolia to Electra.

We very cordially invite Mr Long to become a regular reader of The Times so that he may learn just what we do think of the "piker" and oil men generally. We are certain from his letter that he has never read a copy of The Times.

News From the Oil Fields

The Clayco Company drilled in one of the best wells in the Electra field Saturday afternoon in a stray sand at a depth of less than 1,600 feet. This well is located near their No. 2 well and the sand is an entirely new discovery in this field. Oil men consider it of considerable importance. The well is now flowing at the rate of 800 barrels in twenty-four hours, according to the most reliable reports that can be obtained. Following the bringing in of the Red River No 1 which is said to be better than 600 barrels on Thursday, made last week one of the best in the way of new production in the history of the field.

There seems to be a growing belief that one of the leading companies operating at Electra is concealing some important developments, which it is said they will be unable to hold down much longer.

More Wells Near Byers

Byers will have another well drilled in the near future in search of oil and gas. The well will be put down some few miles northwest of town, either on the Wells or Chorn land.

Mr. J. D. Chorn, who owns several hundred acres in that section and whose land the well will probably be drilled on, came down from his home in Missouri a few days ago accompanied by a gentleman who wanted to put down a well. They went to work on the proposition at once, securing leases and other things that had to be attended to. And yesterday we were informed that the leases had been secured and drilling would begin in ninety days, and possibly sooner, as they are very desirous of getting the well started at the earliest possible moment.

This well will be put down in a new territory, as no well has ever been drilled near this one, yet the men who have looked over this field have every reason to believe that this is a very desirable location, and they fully anticipate the biggest well and the best field yet undeveloped anywhere in this part of the state and are showing their good faith by putting down a well at once and start things to moving. Should this territory prove to be good, there will be many wells drilled there as soon as possible, as these people will develop this entire country surrounding the first well put down.

With the drilling of the well east of town going right along and the certainty of another being started at an early date, it seems that the "oil people" believe that the big pool of oil that has never been punctured is somewhere near Byers, and are determined to find it.

Work on the oil well started again Monday and they are now working both night and day, and expect to continue until the well is completed. They have the casing, plenty of it, and everything else that is necessary for the finishing up of this well. Drilling has been prevented this summer for want of casing, being short on water and several other things, but now, nothing is wanting and drilling is going right along, and the well will probably be brought in, in the near future. They fully expect to finish this one before making another stop. We are of the opinion that the well is down to something like 1500 feet, and if this be the case, it will be only a short time until we will know just what is in old mother earth, two miles east of town.—Byers Herald.

W. J. Boivard, of Independence, and J. W. Dyson, of Independence, Kansas, are late arrivals here. They are at Electra today.

A. R. Davis, a well known oil man, is expected here tonight from Sapulpa, Okla. Mr. Davis is making the trip in an automobile. Another oil man whose name has not been learned is accompanying him.

Overman and Noff are reported to have disposed of their intesest in the Beat well drilling north of Electra. From the most authentic reports obtainable, this well which is now down over 1,200 feet has been dry in all the shallow sands.

Samuel E. Bell, who is associated with A. A. Little and Andrew Benson in the oil field here, is confined to his rooms at the Westland Hotel with illness. Mr. Bell is one of the most popular oil men in the country, and his many friends everywhere trust that he will soon be out again.

Petition For Passenger Train.

A petition was placed in circulation among the oil men asking the Fort Worth and Denver to operate a special passenger train between Wichita Falls and Electra, leaving Wichita Falls early in the morning and returning in the evening.

The present service is tiresome and inconvenient as the crew on the mixed train now operated between Wichita Falls and Electra, stops at Iowa Park and other points for switching, three and four hours sometimes being occupied in a trip between the two points.

The travel between Wichita Falls and Electra has grown to such proportions that it is now believed the operation of a special train would not only be a great convenience to the oil men but would be profitable as well.

The Chamber of Commerce has already taken steps to secure this service and it is believed that since the oil men are now petitioning for it that the arrangement will be made.

Commissioners May Be Nominated

Although not specified in the announcement for the meeting, it is probable that nominations will be made at tonight's mass meeting for road commissioners under the new special road law.

Although only three such commissioners will be elected to serve with the county judge and the county commissioners in this precinto, it is probable that nine or ten men will be nominated at tonight's meeting so as to give the voters under latitude in their choice at the election.

At The Colonial.

Franklin and Marlow, in refined vaudeville, consisting of singing and dancing, is the bill at the Colonial tonight, and to supplement this there are three pictures, the feature of which is Nathaniel Hawthorne's Scarlet Letter. This picture is said to be a correct reproduction of the Hawthorne's great novel and if it is, every one should see it, as it teaches a moral to all. Another picture is "The Devil in a Tincup," a laughing farce comedy.

Work will shortly begin on the magnificent Nueces Hotel at Cropus Christi. The hotel will be a six story re-inforced concrete fireproof; will contain 205 rooms and will cost when completed exclusive of furnishings $400,000.

For the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating macadam, graveled or paved roads of Young county, the Commissioner's Court has ordered an election to be held on the 23rd day of Sept. to determine whether bonds in the sum of $100,000 shall be issued.

The ambition of every real woman, is more a matter of care than of luck. There are two things that go to make a woman's hair beautiful—quantity and quality.

No hair, however abundant, can ever be attractive unless it is properly cared for. The better it is taken care of the richer, softer and prettier it will be. On the other hand, no woman's hair can attain its full natural growth unless it is properly nourished and cared for.

We have every article of merit for the care of the hair.

20,000 FLEE BEFORE WALL OF LAVA

MOLTEN STREAM FIFTY FEET HIGH BREAKS OVER LONG DECLIVITY AND FLOWS DOWN SLOPE

TWO CITIES ABANDONED

Inhabitants Flee From Doomed Towns. 300,000 People Will Be Affected—Water Cut Off

By Associated Press.

Catania Sicily, Sept. 14.—Twenty thousand inhabitants of Castiglione and Fancaville fled today before the advancing flood of lava from Mount Etna. This stream which is fifty feet high and a third of a mile wide broke over a long declivity this morning and flowed on the gathering velocity forcing the peasant living in its path to make a hurried escape. It has cut off the water supply of several places. When it reached within three miles of Castiglion Francaville, those cities were hurriedly abandoned.

The eruption means great suffering for the peasantry. The slopes of Etna with an area of more than 400 square miles, support a population more dense than that of any portion of Italy. There are sixty-five cities and villages in the entire area and the number of inhabitants which obtain an excellent agricultural living from the fertile lava beds totals more than $300,000.

President Ends Summer Vacation

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 14.—President Taft's vacation ends today, so far as his stay at his summer home here is concerned. Tomorrow morning, accompanied by his secretary and the ever-present secret service officers, he will motor into Boston and in the evening will depart from that city on his 13,000 mile tour to the Pacific coast and back to Washington.

MORE INFORMATION ABOUT PUBLIC UTILITIES

Additional replies to inquries sent out by the city council asking for information concerning water and light rates in other cities have been received.

At Greenville the light rate is ten cents per kilowatt, with a minmum of $1 per month. The water rate is 30 cents per thousand gallons, with a minmum of 75 cents per month. The city owns its own waterworks.

At Bartlesville, Okla., $50 for each street light of 2000 candle power is charged for the first fifty lights. Additional lights are paid for at the rate of $45 each. The water rate ranges from 25 cents to 6 cents per thousand gallons with a monthly minmum of 50 cents to domestic users and ten dollar deposit is required for water meters. The rate for electric current runs from 10 to 3 cents per kilowatt. Thee is no minmum light charge. A new gas company is operating under a franchise under which the charge is 16 cents per thousand feet for the first three years, 20 cents the next five years and thereafter 25 cents. There is no minmum gas charge.

At Sherman $15 per month is paid for street lights. Water costs 35 cents per thousand gallons with a minmum charge of 25 cents per month.

Honor Aged Salvation Army Leader.

London, Sept. 14.—"General" William Booth was the central figure at a great public reception given in London today to mark the termination of his evangelistic tour of the United Kingdom. The tour was made in a motor car and occupied twenty-six days. Notwithstanding his eighty-two years the venerable founder and head of the Salvation Army is looking forward with eager interest to his coming visit to America.

PROPERTY OWNERS WILL MEET TONIGHT

Property owners who stay away from the meeting at the city hall tonight will virtually forfeit their right to participate in the nomination of candidates for the office of road commissioners, who will direct the expenditure of $150,000 in road improvements in commissioner's Precinct No 1.

This is four or five times as much money as the commissioner's court will regularly expend in three or four years, so that it can be seen that the office is important.

It is planned to name about nine candidates whose names will appear on the ballot. The three receiving the highest number of votes will be selected.

GAINESVILLE BIDS BAILEY FAREWELL

SENATOR'S HOME FOLKS PLEDGE A NEW LOVE AND LOYALTY TO DISTINGUISHED CITIZEN

TO RETURN IN OCTOBER

With Mrs. Bailey He Plans Visit at County Seats In His Old Congressional District

By Associated Press.

Gainesville, Texas, Sept. 14.—United States Senator Bailey and wife left for Washington this morning. Senator Bailey said he would return to Texas in October or November, remaining until December and visiting Denton, McKinney, Bonham and Montague and other county seats of his old congressional district, which Mrs Bailey has never yet seen He will also visit his ranch. The senator is to take his wife to Hot Springs as soon as the weather is cool on account of her health.

On the eve of his departure for Washington, Senator Bailey was given an elaborate banquet at the Turner Hotel last night by his neighbors. It was first arranged to provide plates for but seventy-five, but his admirers were so anxious to be with him on this occasion that space was provided for 100. When no more could be accommodated in the spacious dining room hundreds of friends congregated on the lawn and cheered loudly when Mr. Bailey came out to shake their hands and bid them good-by again for a short time. J. M. Potter was toastmaster and when he stated that the honor must soon be given up to Fort Worth to entertain Senator Bailey as a citizen, tears were seen around the tables, and several volunteered the information that they, too, would become citizens of the city in which the distinguished citizen would take up his lot at the termination of his service in the senate. Aside from the response by Senator Bailey, the following program was carried out. "Joe Bailey," Hon. J. C. Murrel; "Senator Bailey as a Friend," Hon. J. T. Leonard; "Senator Bailey as a Citizen," Judge Stillwell H. Russell, of Ardmore; "Senator Bailey as Statesman," Judge C. B. Potter.

The occasion was an old fashioned love feast, and those citizens who have heretofore disagreed on other questions forgot their dissensions and talked solely of Senator Bailey, his achievements in the national congress, and wished him still greater greatness in his private life.

Just a heart to heart talk with his neighbors was the senator's response, the guest of the evening carefully avoiding all political issues

Senator Bailey last night before the banquet said if the present primary law is maintained in Texas, it will result in the final passing of laws prohibiting the use of money in campaigns and in having candidates run on principles solely. He declared the practice of hauling voters to the polls to vote unless cripples shbuld stop He said the parcels post in fifty years would wipe out the mercantile business in the small towns.

Legislation by the Courts Repugnant to State Rights

Nebraska Governor Pleads for State Authority in the Regulation of Public Utilities—Defends Two Cent Fare Law

By Associated Press

Spring Lake, N. J., Sept 14.—Governor Chester H. Aldrich of Nebraska, author of the Nebraska railway rate law, addressed the convention of Governors today on "The Right of the States to Fix Intrastate Traffic Rates." Governor Aldrich made a plea for state authority in the regulation of public utilities, and gave the results of the operation of the Nebraska rate law to illustrate his argument.

"We have just read in a recent decision, of nation-wide importance," said he, "where our supreme court has gone into the legislative business. It is now becoming quite the thing for federal courts of inferior jurisdiction to the supreme court of the United States, to invade the province and rights of these soverign states by subterfuge, cunning device, and falacious reasoning and thus nullify state laws and tie up generally the government of the states, depriving them of their right to control their own internal commerce.

"The right to enact statutes and regulate such corporations to the end that only just and reasonable charges may be made, is inherent in a state legislature for that commerce which lies wholly within its borders, and the power and duty to say what is reasonable and just when such an issue is tendered, devolves not upon the legislature, but upon the courts of this land.

"In other words, the idea that courts can legislate either directly or indirectly is repugnant to our entire scheme of government. When a court, in an issue tendered, has said that a certain rate or fixed charge is unjust and unreasonable, then it has used its power to its fullest extent, and the overwhelming weight of authority establishes these propositions, and whenever a court steps outside of this particular province, it is not only autocratic, but may be accused justly of arrogating power and authority that belongs to another department of our government.

"I am here to say that the legislation of today, as carried on and regulated by the several states of this union, is in the main just and equitable and fair and that railroad companies doing business today under these regulations are prosperous.

"As a notable instance of this, I call your attention to my own state in its regulation of the common carriers therein. I here make the assertion that under the regulation through the freight rate law, the passenger rate law, and the railway commission, the railroads of the state of Nebraska are on a better business basis and on better terms with the people of the state and do business with them more satisfactorily than they have ever done before in the history of their existence

"Under the two cent fare law, the following figures will show that the business of this state in passenger traffic has greatly increased.

State.

Jan. Feb. March, April:	Ticket sales	Conductors Cash ticket Collections
1908	$1,348,127 63	$71,651 56
1909	1,578,812.57	55,372 36
1910	1,621,815.71	66,517.98
1911	1,630,965.02	66,346.35

"The summary for the same months in the same years on all roads in the state shows the following interstate ticket sales and cash fares collected by conductors:

Interstate
1908	$714,841.47	$10,793.47
1909	844,633 99	11,050.30
1910	963,219.19	8,749 15
1911	915,241.95	7,367 19

"The railway commission of Nebraska has been in force and effect for four years. More than a thousand orders and judgements have been entered during that time by this commission affecting the common carriers and the public. Of the 850 judgements and orders that have been entered by the commission of my state, only two of them have been appealed from They have forced a better service; have forced the railway companies to build many new depots, to re-ballast their tracks, to make various connections, have forced them to change time schedules, have made them put on trains and have done innumerable things for the betterment of the service of the company and the public

"I know not what other states may do; I know not what other states may think. But I can speak for my own state and say that she demands the right and the privilege to be allowed to do the things which her sovereignty, her independence, and her liberty says she may do.

"I say that my state will not only insist, but it will carry forward, at any and all hazards, its inherent government, all functions and in doing this it stands in line with an unbroken chain of decisions coming down from the highest judicial body in the land from the earliest day to the present it will respect courts and court decisions. But as a condition precedent to all this it demands that court opinions stay within well marked lines and respect the sovereign power of these states in the regulation and control of their own purely internal commerce

"At all times it asks these courts to do homage to the scheme of representative government and let the courts remember that tyranny clothed in the garb of judicial office is as hideous as though in the hands of the czar"

MORRISS TRAINING FOR FLYNN BOUT

Conditioning Himself for Supreme Test—Gotham Fans Give It To Him on Sight.

New York, Sept 14 A man remarkable physically is following a pugilist's training routine down at Allenhurst, N J He is punching bags and men, limbering his legs by road runs, developing his wind by rope skipping, making pliant his waist muscles by body bending gyrations and getting into as rugged condition as exercise will permit, for Carl Morris is working hard—harder than he has ever before.

This hope of white hopes, from far off Tulsa, Okla, makes his debut in the east, at Madison Square Garden on September 15, in a bout with sturdy Jim Flynn. That's why the DeForrest place at Allenhurst is so busy these days Morris wants that debut to be as impressive as his great frame can make it.

So Morris is crashing along, beating up his sparring partners, with placid constancy. First Williams, a big white boxer, gets pounded about; then a negro takes his turn. On them both Morris uses huge gloves that reach up his forearms almost to the elbow. They are soft, with rolls of padding resembling somewhat the gauntlets of a broad swordsman. It is well that they are soft, for this force that propels them in terrific It is easy to imagine one of them splintering a door of the DeForrest house And despite the waist—overflesby now—Morris moves about with an ease and speed that promises well But it is the frame upon which Morris hangs that impresses.

A glance at Morris and you are impressed with the power of him. He towers over you—6 feet, 4 inches of him—a great deal of bone and a great deal more muscle. He does not need to speak to let you know that he has not been a pugilist all his life One look at a well-shaped head and an intelligent, pleasant face tells that. His hair is dark brown and his eyes blue. A rather prominent nose square jaws and thick neck immediately impress you that their owner is a man who "does things."

The man's body, legs and arms are suited to the calling that he has chosen The shoulders are developed wonderfully. Chest and back are wide and tell of great lung power. Were it not for his great height the arms would seem unusually long. Eighty-four inches in the reach of them. His belt binds little surplus flesh The waist is thin as big men's waists go, but not too thin Layers of muscles protect the stomach. Like the arms his legs are long. But they are well developed, solidly constructed. Perhaps above the knees the flesh is too thick If so, training will take away that which is not needed.

Another white hope is Frank Gotch

Of Course Johnson Might Land

Of course (as has already occurred to you several times) the Johnson person is not one to allow Mr. Gotch or anyone else to stroll up casually and absorb him peacefully. The big negro has a fine lusty kick in either mit and if the wrestler were anywise indiscreet he might collect wallops to cause him to lose interest in the subsequent proceedings. But Gotch, or any other clever wrestler, knows something of the wallopping game from long experience with frient' leads and that sort of thing, and the chances are that Gotch would cover up enough to protect his jaw and go scrambling in so fast that Johnson uppercuts would land only on the wrestler's mighty arms or would chance harmlessly from bulging body muscles unknown in the fighting game

And then?

Well, then there would be a bear like grip a lightning change of hold a spinning wrench—and the black champion would go to earth pinned with the deadly 'full Nelson from behind' that can crack a neck like a pipestem or with his right arm shattered by a swift hammer lock, or with that terrific toe hold tearing the ligaments of his knee and ankle

Easy for the Wrestler Then

No, there wouldn't be much to it once Gotch had grappled. For the toughest of fighters or the strongest of ordinary athletes is a child in the hands of a trained mat man, who can at will and with unbelievable speed and effect, apply holds that will cure and cripple and killed an inexperienced antagonist. A slower wrestler than Gotch, say Zbyszko, would have more trouble with a fighter like Johnson, who might sail and dodge and send in his unerring jabs until the Poles' eyes were closed or until repeated battering at his jaws would send him under. But it is doubtful if the pugilistic champion ever lived who could have beaten Frank Gotch with Nature's weapons in a go as you please fight.

Fitzsimmons the Best.

Fitzsimmons probably would have been the fighter to worry Gotch the most and the one that would have had the best chance to whip him "Lanky Bob" packed a careful punch in his freckled fist, he was something of a wrestler himself from long training with Ernest Roeber and had the rushing wrestler run into one of those solar plexus jolts, delivered through six inches of space, the chances are that slow music would have been required without further delay. Corbett would have furnished Gotch no more than mild amusement and even Jeffries at his best probably could have cut loose only a couple of wallops and then gone to the mat and certain defeat.

J H POWERS ALLEGES ELECTRA OIL AND GAS CO DID NOT DEVELOP LEASE AS CONTRACTED

A SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Seeks Full Possession of Land and Damages for Oil That Might Have Been Produced.

Alleging that the Electra Oil and Gas Company has failed to develop oil lands leased from him J H Powers of Electra, through Attorneys Montgomery and Britton has filed suit in the district court for $9,000 damages and for full and complete possession of his land

In his petition Power, alleges that he leased 160 acres of land near Electra to the defendant company on April 11, 1911 Under the terms of the lease the company contracted, according to Powers allegations, to start drilling a well within sixty days and to prosecute the development of the oil and gas resources of the land with due diligence. He claims that a well was started within the sixty days and that about July 1st at a depth of 1[illegible] feet and at several shallower depths oil was found and the well pumped 150 barrels a day This is the only well that has been sunk on the lease and Powers claims that if the company had prosecuted the development of the lease with due diligence there would now be eight or nine wells on his land

He alleges that the company is holding the lease for purposes of speculation and does not intend to drill other wells.

By failing to drill other wells, he claims the company has forfeited its lease He says that many wells are being sunk on an adjoining lease thereby draining his land. For the value of the oil which he estimates would have been produced had the land been developed with diligence and for damages resulting from the draining of the land by wells on other leases he asks $9,000 damages.

He also petitions the court to restore him to the full possession of his land

"All utilities in Wisconsin are in a more flourishing condition now than ever before," he said, "and are planning to extend their operations far into the future"

Of the consumer, Governor McGovern said

"Hand in hand with reduction in rates has gone an equally important improvement in service Better service has been placed first and reduction in rates made to wait upon it Transportation facilities have been vastly improved, cleanliness and sanitary precautions have been observed as never before, and more and better trains have been provided And so also of express, lighting, telephone and telegraph service; these have all responded to the demand for a higher standard of efficiency in numerous ways, more forcible felt and plainly evident than it is possible for me briefly to describe."

"The subject of service is closely related to that of rates Like rates just determination of what constitutes reasonably adequate service in any given case depends primarily upon a correct valuation of the utility and a satisfactory system of cost accounting In addition, it requires an inspectional staff. Gas electric, water and telephone service are received special attention at the hands of the Wisconsin Commission and requirements as to them have been standardized. These standards so far as gas and electric service are concerned were embodied in a set of rules adopted only after a most careful survey of actual conditions, both within the state and throughout the country They cover such matters as the heating value and purity of gas, voltage care of lamps, accuracy of meters, disturbance in electric circuits and similar matters Immediately after the promulgation of these rules there was a marked improvement in the character of service

"In striking contract to inaurious forecasts stand the actual results of commission control, most emphatically has it been a good thing, not only for the public but for the utilities also The public has made an immense financial gain. Just how much it is difficult to state with entire accuracy for many orders of the Commission concerning rates lowered some and raised others But it has been conservatively estimated that in the matter of freight rates alone there has been an average annual saving of at least $1,200,000, in passenger fares of not less than $800,000; and in other forms of public service a proportionately large amount. This, of course is not all clear gain

"Lower rates have been followed by an actual increase in revenues. As evidence of this property the last annual report of the Wisconsin commission shows that during the year the operating revenues of electric utilities increased 20 per cent, their net income 29 per cent and new construction for the year 145 per cent The operating revenues of water utilities meanwhile increased 7 per cent, their net income 12 per cent and the construction 24 per cent Gas utilities increased their operating revenues 8 per cent their net income 15 per cent and their construction 11 per cent Railways are reported to show [illegible] increase in their operating revenue 11 per cent their net income 1 per cent and construction an equal amount.

SAYS BUMPER REPORTS ARE ALL BASELESS

President Barrett of Farmers' Union Addresses Southern Cotton Grower's Conference.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept 14.—President Chas S Barrett of the Farmers' Union, in addressing the Southern Cotton Gorwers' conference yesterday declared that all reports of a bumper cotton crop are absolutely baseless He likewise denounced as false any statement to the effect that Farmers' Union is a combine to hold up civilization and before he concluded he charged the existence of conspiracies to hold down the price of cotton

"I state unequivocally that reports government or otherwise, foreshadowing a large cotton crop this year, are absolutely unfounded in fact," said Mr Barrett

"I can speak with authority for the machinery employed by the Farmers' Union has ascertained that cotton conditions virtually in every state are different The crop will not come up to expectations in volume The man who is looking for a bumper crop is deceiving himself or has been deceived

If I correctly interpret the purpose of this meeting it is to stand between the farmers of the Southern states and the loss of several million dollars through unwise marketing of cotton The Farmers' Union has just concluded its annual convention at Shawnee Okla, and I am confident that there the representatives of more than two million farmers formed plans that will bring to nought any conspiracy that may exist to secure for less than its real worth the staple that is still the South's main dependence"

He invited the co operation of every man in a movement to bring forth what it is worth.

Mr Barrett then entered into an explanation of the mission of the farmers' union. He denied emphatically that the organization exists for the purpose of working havoc in the general business world, or is subverting the laws of supply and demand or of gaining an unjust advantage of any one

"I have been informed on excellent authority that there exists a conspiracy, almost world wide, to beat the price of the cotton crop," said Mr. Barrett.

"I am not afraid that such a plot will succeed, but if it should the Southern farmers, and of course, the southern business men, would be poorer by many millions of dollars

"Co operation, rigid, faithful, unswering co-operation, will banish the last chance of that possibility. The southern farmer has his fate in his own hands. He can get exactly what his crop is worth We should forever abandon the folly of disposing of our cotton in a one-sided deal—of letting the buyer name his price, and tamely accepting it. We deserve nothing better of fate if we don't stand up for ourselves, if we don't realize that the staple is worth a certain price to the world and that the world will pay that price if it sees we are determined to get it."

TALK CLARENCE OUSLEY FOR BAILEY'S PLACE

(Star-Telegram)

Friends of Clarence Ousley, editor of the Fort Worth Record, are urging him to become a candidate for United States senator to succeed Senator Bailey, and are seeking to ascertain the sentiment among leading Democrats over the state in regard to the matter.

A dispatch from Austin to the effect that Comptroller Lane had received a circular letter from Dr R O Braswell of Fort Worth, asking for his expression on the subject, was confirmed by Dr. Braswell Wednesday.

The letter says: "The friends of Clarence Ousley are urging him to make the race for the senate to succeed Mr Bailey. He will not consent to be a candidate unless he may be assured that he may make the race as a Democrat, and the issues will not be drawn strictly on partisan prohibition lines. Every one of course, knows his position on the prohibition question, but we, his friends, realize in him a safe, sane, honest and able Democrat, who if elevated to the senatorship would reflect high credit upon Texas and are therefore extremely anxious to have him offer for the place."

The letter concludes with a request that each recipient give expression to his views on Mr. Ousley's candidacy.

Dr. Braswell said Wednesday that he knew Mr. Ousley's views so well that he knew he could not be induced to offer for senator unless he could be assured that the campaign would be conducted on a basis of legitimate issues, and therefore had acted upon his own initiative in the hope of getting facts that would induce Mr. Ousley to become a candidate.

Since the middle of July Walter Johnson has been pitching like the renowned right-hander that he is Early in the season the big fellow ran into a sick spell, was not himself, and almost every start he was clouted all over the field. But Sir Walter hopped on to his real stride on July 17, and since that time he has won ten out of eleven games Before that date his mark was but 9-8, but his last eight appearances on the rubber has reesulted in nothing but victories Since July 17 he has trimmed the Tigers two out of three Chicago three times, St Louis twice Cleveland twice and New York once

Bailey is quoted as having said that if the present primary law was maintained in Texas it would result in the final passage of laws prohibiting the use of money in campaigns and having the candidates run on principles solely He also declares that the practice of hauling voters to the polls to vote (unless they were cripples) should be be stopped For the second or third time let it be recorded that the Times thoroughly endorses the stand taken by Senator Bailey on the two subjects above mentioned

In the event Mr Ousley should conclude to become a candidate for United States Senator to succeed Senator Bailey, he will be in a better position to appreciate some of those blistering editorials that the Record has from time to time aimed at Mr Bryan for bolting the regular Democratic nominee for governor of Nebraska Democrats in the congressional district of Galveston will probably be in a position to furnish some facts that will bother Mr Ousley considerably, especially as it is said that in the event he makes the race it will be only as a Democrat, and in the opinion of many, the best proof of a Democrat is 'a voting of the ticket"

There is not much danger of the Wilson boom bursting itself It is now as it has been from the start,—Wilson against the field and the only hope the opposition have of keeping him from getting the Democratic presidential nomination is through the 'favorite son method There is a movement of that kind on foot in nearly every state where it is conceded that Wilson has the advantage and Texas is no exception to the rule Something along the favorite son line is likely to be sprung in this state at any time now

There is plenty of work in Wichita Falls for common labor at $2 per day As an evidence of this the contracting company that has a contract for putting in the new bridge across the Wichita river is unable to keep the work going regularly on account of the scarcity of labor

While much has been said and written in the past concerning the crowded condition of the state asylums and the fact that insane patients are frequently housed in the different jails over the country and held in detention with hardened criminals oft times women who were tenderly nurtured and bear the marks of refinement while demented are forced to remain in these beastly places because the great State of Texas is too penurious and niggardly to prepare adequate quarters for their reception It is a lasting shame and disgrace to the name of the Lone Star State that our lawmakers are too busy looking after the shaping of districts to suit their own plans and chances of further political preferment to look after such matters Texas needs more and better asylums in order to take care of her unfortunate insane and the press of this State should not let up upon the matter until they are provided or every peanut politician in the State driven from public life Give us more of a business administration and less of personal and petty politics —Weatherford Democrat

Who Will Wear the Toga?

The Anvil Herald nominates Hon John N Garner for United States senator to succeed Senator J W Bailey —Hondo Anvil Herald

It will be noted that up to this hour neither Mr Campbell nor Mr Wolters has made any indignant protest over mention of their names as prospective candidates to succeed Senator Bailey —Galveston News

In our ticket announced elsewhere there is just one reservation If Governor Colquitt should enter the race for United States senator, the Star is for him for the senate for governor or anything he wants no matter what it is —Baird Star

Ex Governor Campbell promptly brought forth as a candidate for the Bailey succession If the prohibition question is to dominate the contest you can easily put your finger on the man who will lead the Statewide cohorts—one Thomas H B—H —Paris Advocate

Clarence Ousley would suit the News as a senator and he would grace the position The News, however does not urge Mr Ousley to get in the game for there is just as much honor in being a good newspaper man as in becoming a senator, though not usually so much salary —Paris News

Is Jake Wolters to become a candidate for United States senator to succeed J W Bailey? It is rumored that he has been invited to do so and certain it is that he is being groomed in South Texas for something Well Jake is a scrapper all right, and might develop into a first class political sprinter —Rogers Weekly News

It is quite amusing to note the different ones who solemnly announce that they are not candidates for Bailey s place That is one way of feeling of the public pulse and no doubt, some of the decliners are very much disturbed when their declarations are taken at face value, and urgings fail to materialize The number of men who think they could best fill the position, down in their hearts is not far removed from the total of the combined poll tax list and exempts —Temple Telegram

The police of Houston have been instructed to arrest all vagrants, but we hardly think they will be kept busy carrying out the instructions No self respecting vagrant ever tarries in that Texas town long enough to be arrested He passes right through—Virginian Pilot

MRS. LARAMORE TELLS TROUBLES

Lady in Goodwater Describes Her Distressing Experience and Tells How She Was Finally Relieved.

Goodwater, Mo.—"Ever since I was a little girl," says Mrs Riley Laramore, "I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia.

I suffered misery after eating, and had terrible heartburn.

I thought I had to suffer this way as long as I lived, but when I began to take Thedford's Black-Draught, in small doses, every night, the heartburn was all gone in a few days, and I could eat without distress.

I took two small packages in all, and although that was some time ago, the dyspepsia has not returned.

I speak a good word for Thedford's Black-Draught whenever I get the opportunity."

If eating causes distress, we urge you to try Thedford's Black-Draught. It cleanses the system, helps the stomach to digest its food, regulates the bowels, and stimulates the liver

It acts gently and is without bad aftereffects. Try it. Price 25c.

SWINDLER POTTER WAS IN SAN ANTONIO

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 14.—A number of people in this city are taking a very lively interest in the arrest of S. A. Potter in Chicago, who it is alleged is the champion gold brick swindler of the country Potter was in this city some months ago and held a most flattering proposition to certain persons and made strenuous efforts to have them take stock in his schome At that time he pretended to have a large interest in an alleged diamond mine in Arkansas and maintained that there was millions in working the claim. As a convincing proof that valuable diamonds were found in his alleged holdings, he had a large display of stones which he declared were taken from the land But after trying for some time, without success, to induce a number of people to part with their cash, he quietly left the city and had not been heard from since until his arrest was heralded from Chicago.

The ambition of every real woman, is more a matter of care than of luck. There are two things that go to make a woman's hair beautiful—quantity and quality.

No hair, however abundant, can ever be attractive unless it is properly cared for. The better it is taken care of the richer, softer and prettier it will be On the other hand, no woman's hair can attain its full natural growth unless it is properly nourished and cared for.

We have every article of merit for the care of the hair.

AN OLD RESIDENT RETURNS

Years ago I used to live around here. When a boy, I rode, walked and run wild all over these diggins; there wasn't a cow trail I didn't know about.

"Many a ranchman's camp have I visited and listened to the tales of the cowboys whose sense of justice was about as good as a supreme judge, and in most cases was wielded with dispatch that put a curb on all sorts of marauding and lawlessness when nothing else would.

"I am going to presume that you know all about the historic days around here, 'cause almost every boy and girl has heard about them along with their nursery rhymes and legends. In school they read about Mark Anthony and Billy Shakespeare and on the sly about Christy Mathewson and Jack Johnson, so there is no need of my recounting adventurous days for their benefit, because the percentage column, Joe Bailey, and Henry Clay Beattie seem to be too much in the lime-light for such antiquated news as Wichita Falls in high heeled boots, jingling her spurs, with a forty-five on her hip for a gentle persuader. There was a time when Crawford and his kid compaion got a hankering for the money down in the City National Bank, and later took to the telephone post close by as a special entertainment for the crowd, but they wouldn't stand a ghost of a show with some of our twentieth century gents, who have their sign out 'we rob you while you wait'

"I've been looking around here for several days trying to locate some of my old-time friends and associates I found the most of them sleeping peacefully over on the hill, where everybody has the same space, and don't kick about being crowded. The sad thing about it all seems that those old pioneers, along with a lot of others, sleep in unmarked graves. There wasn't even a head board to tell me where some of them slept; not a word of sympathy or love engraven; not one token of remembrance. The sexton and I looked up the records of—I was about to call their names, but you know them—any way some of them we found in unkept parts, neglected and forgotten; others we could not locate. Some I found with names engraven on beautiful granite shafts in loving remembrance—then it was I thought about the unremembered who were as faithful as the rest. I thought about their many kind deeds and generous impulses; I thought about their children, many of whom hold prominent places throughout the country and state How ungrateful how selfish and how thoughtless they all were, but I also remembered that frailty, selfishness, and thoughtlessness, carelessness, and indifference belong to the human race, and even though they were neglected, perhaps they were not forgotten.

There is a certain amount of charity granted to all, and I am writing this with the hope that all those who have neglected those sacred plots over on the hill will get busy and chronicle their names in loving remembrance, not only as a historic record, but for the benefit of their old friends as well who would like to visit the grave and place a flower thereon as we dwell on pleasant memories of the past

There is a first class and up-to-date marble and granite works right here in your city. An investigation will convince you that you don't have far to go to have a suitable and lasting memorial placed.

Pick up any cook book and a great majority of the recipes call for cream (not milk)
How often do you have the cream? We have just received a shipment of

Dahl's Double Thick Cream

in tins. This is just what its name implies—Just Cream—Double Thick Cream. Not a thing added and can be used for any recipe that calls for cream. Keep a few tins in the house and you can make any recipe calling for CREAM and can always have CREAM in your coffee and to serve with your fruits and breakfast foods. Now don't confound this with any condensed or evaporated milk or so called evaporated cream—this is PURE CREAM from which all milk is extracted by centrifugal force and reduced to a thick paste. Made in Norway and now being introduced for the first time in America. It will pay you to investigate.
